

01 / CREATE ONE USEFUL POST

Start with facts.

A practical listing example you can adapt today.

FICTIONAL DEMO FACTS

Two bedrooms. Private balcony. Dedicated parking. This is an invented demonstration, not a property listing.

COPY THIS AI PROMPT

Using only these verified facts: [FACTS], write a short property caption. Mention two features, avoid claims about location or value, and end with one question inviting a reply. Do not add missing facts.

EXAMPLE OUTPUT

Looking for outdoor space without giving up dedicated parking? This two-bedroom home includes a private balcony and a parking space. Which matters more in your next home: outdoor space or parking?

Replace the demo with your own verified property facts before publishing.

02 / CONTINUE THE CONVERSATION

A reply is a starting point.

Use one easy question instead of a second sales pitch.

WHEN SOMEONE ASKS FOR DETAILS

Hi [Name], happy to share the details about [property]. Is there a particular feature you want me to check first?

IF THE CONVERSATION GOES QUIET

Hi [Name], would you still like the information about [property], or would another option be more useful?

IF THEY ARE ONLY EXPLORING

No problem. Would a short checklist help you compare homes when you are ready?

Personalize with the person's actual request. Use these with people who have asked to hear from you, respect a request to stop, and adapt the timing to the conversation.

03 / RECORD THE NEXT STEP

Give each lead a next action.

Use the included CSV in your preferred spreadsheet app.

A SIMPLE LEAD RECORD

Lead: Demo Lead A - fictional example

Request: Asked about balcony and parking

Status: Details requested

Next action: Send verified listing information

Due: Choose an actual follow-up date

TRY THE WORKFLOW

1. Draft one post from verified facts.
2. Ask one useful question when someone replies.
3. Record the next action and its due date.

Want the complete workflow? The $19 kit includes 100 AI prompts, a 30-day content plan, follow-up templates, buyer and seller resources, and four CSV trackers.

Digital toolkit, not an automated CRM. You customize and use the materials yourself. No lead or income results are guaranteed.
